

Muroran-IT Rare Earth

Workshop 2017

18-19 October, 2017 Kasumigaseki, Tokyo, Japan

After first edition (June 2016, Rusutsu, Hokkaido, Japan), the second edition of Muroran-IT Workshop on "Innovative Development for Rare Earths Application" will be held on October 18-19 2017 in Kasumigaseki, Tokyo, Japan. Researchers and engineers from all over the world will get together for the purpose of discussing the awareness of potential uses of rare earths. The workshop will consist entirely of all invited lecturers. Not only recent research results, but also their future possibilities will be presented.

Day 1

Kazankaikan conference center

Floor 37, West building,
Kasumigaseki Common Gate

[Special Lecture]

Prof. Hideo Hosono
(Tokyo Institute of Technology, Japan)

[Poster Session]

[Banquet]

Day 2

NEDO branch office

Floor 12, Daido-Seimei Kasumigaseki Bldg.

[Invited Lectures]

Dr. Ryan Ott (Ames Lab., USA)
Dr. Yoshiko Fujita (Idaho National Lab., USA)
Dr. Viktor Balema (Ames Lab., USA)
Prof. Vladimir V. Kaminskii (Ioffe Institute, Russian Fed.)
Prof. Pietro Manfrinetti (University of Genova, Italy)
Prof. Nobuhito Imanaka (Osaka University, Japan)
Prof. Koichi Matsumoto (Kanazawa University, Japan)
Mr. Nobuyoshi Takeuchi
(Nemoto Lumi-Materials Co., Ltd., Japan)
Mr. Hajime Ikeda
(Japan Oil, Gas and Metals National Corporation, Japan)

Chairpersons

Prof. Shinji Hirai (Muroran-IT, Japan)
Prof. Takashi Nakamura (Tohoku University, Japan)
Dr. Alexander H. King (Ames Lab., USA)

Contact

Prof. Paolo Mele (Workshop Secretariat)
(Research Center for Environmentally Friendly
Materials Engineering, Muroran-IT, Japan)
[E-mail] pmele@mmm.muroran-it.ac.jp
[Fax] +81-143-46-5644

[Day 1, 2] Research Center for Environmentally
Friendly Materials Engineering, Muroran
Institute of Technology, Japan

[Day 2] New Energy and Industrial Technology
Development Organization (NEDO), Japan

